

Lucy by Lucy Kurrein.

New platform sofa by Lucy Kurrein for Offecct. London based Lucy Kurrein is one of the new designers in Offecct's news collection 2018. Her contribution is an ingenious sofa system for both rest and work.

She is pleased with what she has accomplished and the furniture carries her first name.

– Lucy is a modular sofa system based on individual seats – something that greatly facilitates the furnishing of a lobby, for example, says Lucy Kurrein. The idea was a soft and inviting piece of furniture, so much of the work involved ensuring comfort and shape permanence.

Lucy is a platform sofa designed for social soft meetings. Lucy offers high comfort and several additional functions as hanger for the coat and movable table tops for the coffee or the lap top.

Both the designer and Offecct believe that Lucy will gain popularity in environments other than public:

– We people live in the present and in real time and work and rest where we are now. Lucy by Lucy Kurrein captures that trend, while the sofa is functional, says Offecct's Design Manager Anders Englund.

Lucy Kurrein

Lucy Kurrein began her career on an Art Foundation Diploma at the Leeds College of Art and Design. She went on to study furniture design at Buckinghamshire University where she graduated in 2007. After some years at Matthew Hiltons' and PearsonLloyds' respectively, all British Royal Designers for Industry, she set up her own design studio in London in 2013. The same year she launched her first sofa in collaboration with SCP. In 2015 Lucy was awarded "Young Furniture Designer of the Year" by Homes and Gardens magazine. She is one of the most exciting new designers working in Europe today.
