BY BOLIA

MATERIALS WE LOVE

A TRIBUTE TO NATURE

When we carefully select the materials we use to create our designs, we are inspired by the ever-changing nature that surrounds us. The magnificent natural textures, the soft colours, the calming atmospheres, and the breathtaking landscapes.

CAREFULLY SELECTED MATERIALS

We create beautiful and timeless quality designs that are designed and built to last. The solid craftsmanship and durable, certified materials let us offer you a 10-year warranty on every single design in our collection. Read more at Bolia.com.

TESTED, CERTIFIED, DURABLE, & SAFE

We focus on using long-lasting and safe materials in our designs, such as FSC® certified wood, traceable leathers, and OEKO-TEX® STANDARD 100 certified fabrics, and more.

TACTILE FABRICS

Bouclé, New Zealand wool, linen, velvet, or durable textiles made from recycled fibres. Whatever you prefer, you can be sure that every fabric is of the finest quality. Discover the beautiful variants within each category and read about how to best care for your fabric.

OEKO-TEX® STANDARD 100

All our fabrics are OEKO-TEX® STANDARD 100 certified. This means that the textile has been tested for harmful substances. The test is conducted by independent OEKO-TEX® institutes, taking into account both regulated and non-regulated substances that can be harmful to human health. In many cases, limit values go far beyond national and international requirements. The criteria are updated at least once a year and expanded on the basis of new scientific and statutory requirements.

LEATHER & SHEEPSKIN

Natural leather and comforting sheepskin are beautiful and timeless materials that will age gracefully over the years. All our sheepskin is from New Zealand and each piece of leather can be traced all the way from farm to finished design – sourced exclusively from Danish and Swedish farms.

NATURAL AND TRACEABLE LEATHERS

In collaboration with the Danish company, SPOOR, we have introduced three new luxurious and traceable leathers, in a variety of elegant colours. Each piece can be traced all the way from farm to finished design – sourced exclusively from Danish and Swedish farms, and turned into luxuriously soft leather at Denmark's last remaining tannery, located on the island of Funen.

Marble

Marble is a breathtakingly beautiful natural stone that has formed in rocks over millions of years. And depending on the unique composition and nature's impact on its place of origin, different types of marble are formed with unique patterns and colours. No two pieces are alike, which is why every piece of marble furniture will be utterly unique.

Travertine

Travertine is a unique natural stone with a beautiful and dreamy expression. The tranquil patterns and colours invite calm and nature inside, and together with wood and other natural materials create the framework for a light and soothing universe.

Concrete

Concrete has a calm and stylish appearance that is reminiscent of the clean lines of modern architecture and the raw aesthetics of industry. A natural material with unique and beautiful properties consisting of only cement, sand, stone, and water.

WOOD AND LAMINATE

We love natural, living materials such as solid wood and veneer – which beautifully reflect our Scandinavian design heritage.

OVERVIEW](#)RUG OVERVIEW

Solid Wood

Solid wood isn't just beautiful, it's also a durable and luxurious material that brings us closer to nature. Its tactile surface is warm, sensuous, and beautiful, and every single piece of wood is unique and patinates beautifully over the years.

Wood is a living material that over time will naturally be affected by its surroundings. A dry and warm room can cause the wood to dry out and contract, and a room with high humidity can cause the wood to expand. It's precisely because of the natural properties of the wood that proper maintenance helps extend its service life.

Veneer

Veneer is formed from very thin slices of wood cut from tree trunks. The fine veneer craftsmanship was originally developed to cover furniture and interiors with rare and expensive wood types – today, we use it to maintain the beautiful, natural properties of solid wood, in a more uniform, thin, and stable form, which also requires less raw material to produce.

Teak

Teak has unique properties and is extremely durable. The wood naturally has a high oil content, which prevents water and moisture from penetrating the wood and thereby protects it from the elements.

When the furniture is new, it has a beautiful golden colour and gradually as the wood is exposed to sunlight and oxidation, it will fade and turn silvery grey. Because of this, you can choose the look you want your furniture to have. If you love the greyish, faded look, don't apply oil. If you prefer the warm glow, you should treat it with oil regularly.

Laminate

Laminate is a durable material with many beautiful possibilities, with a soft and pleasant surface that is very durable and flexible. It is suitable for busy homes, dining tables and public spaces that experience lots of wear and tear.

We only use HPL laminate and FENIX NTM nanolaminate, created by Italian Arpa Industriale.

HANDWOVEN RUGS

We are members of the Care & Fair organisation. An initiative founded in 1994, to support local weavers, particularly in India and Nepal. It ensures that traditional millennium-old craftsmanship lives on but with the provision of responsible working conditions and access to schooling and medical care for the weavers and their families. And all our handwoven rugs carry the Care & Fair label - as well as being of the finest, durable quality.

HAND-KNOTTED RUGS

Hand knotting is the oldest method of making rugs and originated in Central Asia over two thousand years ago. The hand-knotted production technique involves skilled rugmakers manually tying each knot into threads wrapped around a vertical loom. The process is timeconsuming and requires precision, but it results in high-quality rugs with intricate patterns and durability.

LOOM-KNOTTED RUGS

Loom-knotted refers to a method of making rugs using a mechanical or semi-mechanical device used to facilitate the weaving process. In loom-knotted rugs, the knots are usually premade or mechanically tied. Loom-knotted rugs use a combination of mechanical processes and human control to create the rug. This method allows for more efficient rug production compared to hand-knotted rugs.

OVERVIEW

RUG OVERVIEW

FLAT WEAVE LOOMED

Flatweave rugs are made by weaving threads in a flat pattern without a pile. This makes the rug thinner and lighter compared to e.g. hand-loomed rugs.

Braid

Braid is a series of rugs woven by hand in a luxurious mix of wool and viscose. The natural fibres create a plush and luxurious texture, woven with the delicately braided structure that has given the series its name.

RUG OVERVIEW

PIT LOOMED

A pit loom is set into the ground or a pit, as the name suggests. This means that a portion of the loom is situated below ground level, providing a stable and fixed frame for weaving.

Funo

Funo rug has an appearance that is equal parts natural and rustic. The natural wool that the rug is made of emphasises both elements, and the thick yarns give Funo an exclusive natural and distinctive character.

OVERVIEW

HAND TUFTED RUGS

This technique utilizes a tufting gun that quickens the process of constructing the rug. tufted rugs are similar to loomed rugs but build in different ways. Instead of starting with a warp and making the weft using the loom, a tufted rug starts with a foundation cloth. The foundation cloth is a pre-woven fabric with small squares. Through the little squares in the cloth's weave, they then shoot yarn loops from the back to the front using the tufting gun. Once they finish the whole front surface, they shave down the loops to create an even surface.

Natura

Natura is a classic and timeless rug that will outlast trends and tendencies and remain a beautiful and sophisticated foundation in your interior spaces. Woven by hand with a medium pile and luxuriously soft, woollen texture.
